Albany International Corp. Announces Proposed Sale of Notes and Authorization of Share Repurchases

Albany, New York, March 6, 2006 -- Albany International Corp. (NYSE: AIN; PCX, FWB) announced today that, subject to market conditions and other factors, it plans to offer $150 million of convertible senior notes due 2026 in a private offering. As part of the offering, the Company will grant the initial purchasers of the notes a 13-day option, solely to cover over-allotments, to purchase up to an additional aggregate $30 million of the notes.

In January 2006, the Company announced that the Board of Directors increased the Company's authorization to repurchase shares of the Company's Class A common stock to 3.5 million shares, and the Company has already repurchased 663,700 of such shares. The Company expects to use the net proceeds from this offering to repurchase shares under this authorization, in the open market from time to time or through private transactions, as well as to pay the costs associated with the convertible note hedge and warrant transactions described below. The Company expects to commence share repurchase activity concurrently with this offering. Some share repurchase transactions may be with investors in the notes offered hereby. Any such repurchases, however, are subject at all times to the availability of such shares at prices and in quantities considered by the Company to be advantageous to the Company's long-term shareholders. Such repurchase activity may therefore not be concluded for some time after the offering is concluded, if at all. Any net proceeds not used for the foregoing purposes will be used for general corporate purposes.

The notes will be convertible upon the occurrence of specified events and on or after February 15, 2013, into cash up to the principal amount of notes to be converted and shares of the Company's Class A common stock with respect to the remainder, if any, of the Company's conversion obligation. The notes will be pari passu with the Company's existing and future senior indebtedness, be senior to the Company's future subordinated debt, if any, and be effectively subordinated to the debt and other obligations of the Company's subsidiaries.

In connection with the offering, the Company plans to enter into convertible note hedge and warrant transactions in respect of its Class A common stock with affiliates of certain of the initial purchasers of the notes. These transactions are intended to reduce the potential dilution upon future conversion of the notes by providing the Company with the option, subject to certain exceptions, to acquire shares that offset the delivery of newly issued shares upon settlement of conversion of the notes. The other parties to such transactions have advised the Company that they or their affiliates expect to enter into various over-the-counter derivative transactions with respect to shares of the Company's Class A common stock contemporaneously or shortly after the pricing of the notes. In addition, the parties or their affiliates may continue to purchase and may sell shares of the Company's Class A common stock in secondary market transactions and may enter into or unwind derivative transactions following the pricing of the notes.

This press release shall not constitute an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy, nor shall there be any sale of the notes or the Class A common stock issuable upon conversion of the notes in any state or jurisdiction in which such offer, solicitation, or sale would be unlawful. The notes will be offered only to qualified institutional buyers in reliance on Rule 144A under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"). The notes and the shares of Class A common stock issuable upon conversion of the notes have not been registered under the Securities Act or any state securities laws, and may not be offered or sold in the United States or to U.S. persons absent registration or an applicable exemption from the registration requirements.
